

List of what to bring to the meeting with your bankruptcy lawyer:

Your mortgage documents and/or legal description of home

Your property tax statements

The Certificate of Title for any motor vehicles you own including motor cycles

Your last two years income tax returns

Last six months of pay stubs

Work history including employer, job title, how long and pension options

Name and age of all dependent children

List of monthly living expenses and documentation for regular expenses

A list of the name and address of each business that you owe the money to and a copy of the bills

Any court papers you have been served regarding a lawsuit, foreclosure, or garnishment

The amount owed in judgments and a copy of each order

Any divorce decrees, support orders or marital settlement agreements

The amount that you owe in income tax and a copy of the Assessment Notice

The amount that you owe or are owed on support obligations

The amount that you are behind on mortgages or home equity loans

The amount owed on student loans and if you are behind on payments

A list of all bank accounts that you have used within the last two years

A list of any accounts closed within the last year, including credit card, checking, savings or credit union

A list of all business entities that you have an interest in or which you had an interest in within the last 6 years.

A list of any property transferred to or gifted to friends or family members, other than small birthday or Christmas gifts, within the past 6 years.

All other documentation you feel might be helpful or have some bearing on the filing of your petition for relief under the Bankruptcy Code.

A copy of all utility bills for the last three months

A copy of all bank or credit union statements for the last six months

A copy of any credit reports you have received in the last two years